CONTINUATION OF COMPLAINT:*Antonio Francisco MORENO-Gutierrez*Uriel PARDO-Molina*Salvador CABANAS-Gomez*Marco Antonio PAREDES-Valenzuela*PROBABLE CAUSE STATEMENT

I declare under the penalty of perjury that the following statement is true and correct:

Furthermore, the complainant states that Filemon JIMENEZ-Nava, Gabriella ARREOLA-Gabriel, Tomas VARGAS-Fabian, Gualterio CRUZ-Fabian, Perla CORREA-Renteria, and Ivan CERVANTES-Cervantes are citizens of a country other than the United States; that said aliens have admitted that they are deportable; that their testimony is material, that it is impracticable to secure their attendance at the trial by subpoena; and they are material witnesses in relation to this criminal charge and should be held or admitted to bail pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 3144.

On July 10, 2008, Border Patrol Agents apprehended a group of eight individuals illegally present in the United States, including one later identified as material witness CERVANTES-Cervantes, Ivan. Under oath, CERVANTES provided Border Patrol Agents G. Ballesteros and O. Ramirez with information regarding his most recent illegal entry into the United States, including a detailed description of the area he was smuggled through.

On July 11, 2008, Agents Ballesteros and Ramirez, assigned to plain-clothes enforcement, were investigating the validity of the statements made by CERVANTES on the previous day regarding the route and locations through which he was smuggled into the United States. Agents Ballesteros and Ramirez traveled eastbound along California State Route 94 in the rural eastern region of San Diego County until arriving at a location near the road with surrounding landmarks that matched the description of the area CERVANTES described that he was smuggled through. This area is located approximately one quarter mile east of the Tecate, California Port of Entry and one and a half miles north of the United States/Mexico International Boundary.

Upon investigating the area, Agent Ballesteros identified a heavily-used foot-trail with fresh pedestrian foot sign and walked north from the highway along the trail leading from the side of SR 94 down to the bottom of a canyon, north of California State Route 94. In Agent Ballesteros' past experience, alien smuggler foot-guides will lead groups of smuggled aliens along creek beds and the bottom of canyons in that area to avoid detection and apprehension by Border Patrol Agents.

Approximately 10 yards north of the highway, Agent Ballesteros observed two male individuals, including one later identified as the defendant Uriel PARDO-Molina sitting on a large boulder at the bottom of the canyon, approximately 65 yards north of his location. As Agent Ballesteros approached the creek bottom, and approximately 10 yards from where the two individuals sat, he noticed several legs protruding from an opening under a large boulder formation on the creek bed near the two individuals. Agent Ballesteros walked along the boulders and greeted the two individuals sitting on the rocks and the larger group of individuals concealed in the gaps between the boulders. None of the subjects appeared to be concerned by Agent Ballesteros' presence and did not seem to immediately identify Agent Ballesteros as a law enforcement officer due to his plain clothes.

Agent Ballesteros asked the group in the Spanish language if they were in need of water, food, supplies, or the authorities and was dismissed by one of the two individuals on the rocks. Though Agent Ballesteros believed the subjects were aliens illegally present in the United States, Agent Ballesteros was concerned for his safety. Agent Ballesteros slowly left the area and hiked south up the foot-trail, returning to the location where Agent Ramirez was waiting with their Bureau vehicle and relayed his observations. Agent Ballesteros then contacted Brown Field Border Patrol Station by radio for assistance and continued to observe the bottom of the canyon where he had encountered the individuals.

After several Border Patrol Agents arrived, Agent Ballesteros and the other Agents approached the boot of the canyon near the creek bed where the individuals had been encountered. Agent Ballesteros observed six individuals attempting to abscond by crawling through the terrain westward and attempting to conceal themselves. Agent Ballesteros approached the six subjects, including PARDO, and identified himself as a US Border Patrol Agent, displaying his Bureau-issued Border Patrol Agent badge around his neck. Agent Ballesteros questioned the six individually as to their citizenship and immigration status. All six admitted that they were citizens and nationals of Mexico illegally present in the United States not in possession of valid documents allowing them to be in or remain lawfully in the United States. At approximately 12:57 PM, Agent Ballesteros placed all six individuals, including PARDO, under arrest for illegal entry into the United States.

Agent Ballesteros continued walking eastbound along the creek bed at the bottom of the canyon and approximately 20 yards east of the location where he had apprehended the six individuals, encountering ten additional individuals attempting to conceal themselves within the rocks near where Agent Ballesteros had initially encountered the larger number of individuals. Agent Ballesteros approached the individuals and identified himself as a Border Patrol Agent, displaying his Bureau issued Border Patrol badge around his neck. Agent Ballesteros questioned the ten individually as to their citizenship and immigration status. All ten admitted that they were citizens and nationals of Mexico illegally present in the United States not in possession of valid documents allowing them to be in or remain lawfully in the United States. Agent Ballesteros placed all ten under arrest for illegal entry into the United States.

Uniformed Border Patrol Agents assisted Agent Ballesteros in securing the 16 subjects and escorting them out of the canyon toward SR 94. Believing that more individuals had remained concealed near the rock formation where he had initially observed the larger group of individuals, Agent Ballesteros returned to the area to search further. Agent Ballesteros located an additional 17 individuals including 3 later identified as defendants concealed underneath a cave-like rock formation. Agent Ballesteros approached the individuals and identified himself as a Border Patrol Agent, displaying his Bureau issued Border Patrol badge around his neck. Agent Ballesteros questioned the seventeen individually as to their citizenship and immigration status. All but one of the 17 admitted they were citizens and nationals of Mexico illegally present in the United States not in possession of valid documents allowing them to be in or remain lawfully in the United States. A single female divulged to Agent Ballesteros that she in fact was a citizen of Guatemala illegally present in the United States and not in possession of valid documents allowing her to be in or remain lawfully in the United States. Agent Ballesteros placed all 17 under arrest for illegal entry into the United States. Within the group of 17 individuals were three subjects, later identified as defendants Antonio Francisco MORENO-Gutierrez, Salvador CABANAS-Gomez, and PAREDES-Valenzuela Marco Antonio. All 33 individuals were transported to the Chula Vista Border Patrol Station for further processing.
